BLIND GIRL TAKES SERMON

[By Latest Mail]
LONDON, Eng.—The most remarkable blind girl in London is Miss Mabel Green, of Regent's Park. Sightless since birth, she is an exceedingly rapid and accurate stenographer and typewriter, but her greatest gift is her extraordinary memory. As a test she reported her pastor's sermon in full last Sunday without taking notes. It was a 9000-word discourse and when the minister had read over her copy he declared that it was without a single omission or mistake.

DUCHESS IN SUFFRAGE PLEA.

[By Latest Mail]
NEWPORT, R. I.—Votes for women were urged by Duchess Consuelo of Marlborough in an address before the Political Equality Association. The meeting was held at Marble house, the Newport residence of the duchess's mother. Mrs. Oliver H. P. Belmont, president of the association, and was attended by many women prominent in the movement for suffrage.

The greater part of the duchess's address was devoted to a description of two British reforms in which she is interested, the homes for prisoners' wives and children and the hostels for women. She said the hostels were designed to furnish moral and sanitary homes for women and girls who otherwise would be exposed to moral dangers, as well as disease and infection in the unhygienic and dirty surroundings of the common lodging house. Many of the hostels are now

A GREAT RELIEF

"Say, old man, you're looking a hundred per cent better than you did a year ago."

"I was worrying about my debts then."

"All paid now, eh?"

"No; but they have grown so that I know there is no use trying to pay them." "I tell you it's a great load off my mind."

In the Woman's World

RECIPES TRIED AND FOUND VERY SUCCESSFUL BY WOMEN OF HONOLULU

Recipes Recommended by Mrs. T. H. Gibson.

BOILED CUCUMBER.

Peel and cut in four, lengthways; steam or boil till tender; drain and lift on to slices of buttered toast; season with salt, pepper and butter, or serve with white sauce. (Remove the seeds).

STUFFED PEPPERS.

Cut off the tops of large, sweet, green peppers. Remove seeds. Place open end up in a baking dish. Fill them with any nicely seasoned stuffing. Put a little stock or water in the pan and bake occasionally.

SALMON PUDDING.

One can salmon. Take out skin, bones and oil. Boil 1 cup bread crumbs and ½ cup milk. Take off the fire and add 1-2 cup boiled rice, 1 saltspoon salt and ½ saltspoon pepper. 2 eggs slightly beaten and mix in the fish. Put all through a colander and press into a mold. Steam three-quarters of an hour.

ONION SOUP.

Peel and slice 1 doz. onions. Fry them a light brown in a tablespoon of butter. Add four cups of boiling water and four of milk. Pepper, salt and a teaspoon of flour to thicken. Strain and serve.

TOMATO JELLY SALAD.

1½ pints of canned tomatoes, ½ box of Cox gelatine, 1 gill cold water, 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt. Soak the gelatine in water two hours. Heat the tomatoes to boiling point, strain. Add gelatine, sugar and salt and a few chopped green olives. Set in molds to harden. Serve on lettuce leaves with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

SPONGE CAKE.

1 doz. eggs, 1 lb. white sugar, ¾ lb. flour, juice of a lime or lemon. Beat whites very stiff. Sugar and yolks together. Add whites and flour. Beat together quickly. Bake in a quick oven.

A COLD PUDDING.

Boil 1 pint of milk. Stir in two beaten eggs in which three tablespoons of flour have been mixed till smooth. Then beat in a dessert spoonful of butter. Add this mixture gradually to the milk as soon as it boils. Add a little salt. Keep boiling and stir all the time for ten minutes. Turn into a pudding dish. Serve with either a jelly sauce or sift sugar on the top and cream.

CUP CAKE.

1 cup butter, 2 cups sugar, 8 eggs, 3 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, a cup cleaned currants, flavoring.

GRAPE WATER ICE.

1 pt. grape juice, 1 qt. water, 1 lb. sugar, juice of 1 lemon. Boil sugar and water together five minutes, take off fire and add lemon juice. Then skim. When cold add grape juice and freeze. (Isabella grapes).

FROZEN PINEAPPLE.

Peel and grate two large pineapples. Take 1 lb. of sugar and 1 qt. of water and boil together five minutes and cool, then add the pineapple and lemon juice and freeze.

IF WOMEN DO THEIR OWN WORK

Where a woman does her own work, simplicity should be the first thing aimed at. In such a home it is not true economy to attempt meals of four or five courses, with little dabs of food at each course. Such meals are not satisfying to the average person, nor are they appropriate to the average manner of living. Select a plain soup that can be quickly made at little cost, a meat dish with two vegetables, and either a simple dessert or a salad—no more. The housewife who is her own maid should avoid dishes costly in time, unless she uses a fireless cooker. For the kitchen is only one room in the house. To make a home, the whole house must be kept in attractive order, the sewing and mending must be done, and the housewife must still have time for recreation and reading.

Of course a great deal of waste in the kitchen results from sheer carelessness. The average woman, for instance, is as likely as not to use a French Sabatier knife, the most convenient of all knives, for scraping a baking board or a neglected utensil when she is in a hurry. Such a knife should be cared for like a razor, so that at any time it is ready for fine work. A spatula or palette knife, limber and without a cutting edge, should be used for such scraping as has to be done. Of course, all utensils should be thoroughly scraped out, not only to save them but to avoid stopping up the kitchen drain pipes, but a wire dishcloth will do this work better than a stiff knife, and prove much cheaper in the end.

To carelessness, too, must be ascribed the waste due to guess work—and the guessing cook is always a wasteful worker. Even though she hits it eight out of 10 times, the two failures are too expensive to tolerate. Accurate measurements are absolutely necessary to true economy. A tin measuring cup costs but 10 cents. Cups, bowls and plates of stoneware or china have no place in a modern kitchen. Use some other unbreakable ware for all utensils.

You should have an ordinary 5-cent paint brush for greasing cake and graham pans, and it is better to use suet instead of butter for this. A good allowance of butter is a half pound per week to each individual; more than this is wasteful, though less would not give a balanced ration, unless olive oil or cream were substituted in its place. It is with eggs and sugar, however, that I have found the average housewife more extravagant than she is with any other materials. The use of eggs for cakes and desserts in midwinter, when eggs are very high in price, represents unnecessary extravagance. Remember, also, to use deserts without eggs or milk when they are to follow meat meals.

There is no more wasteful method of cooking than frying. Many housewives fry, and always will, and most of them also commit the extra extravagance of purchasing lard for deep frying, rather than use the rendered suet and clarified drippings that come with out cost to every housewife. Proper kitchen management demands that strict care be taken of those things which have to be renewed from time to time. The average housekeeper is not at all economical, for example, in her treatment of brooms, dust pans and dusters. Soft cotton materials should be kept for dusting, and they should be washed once or twice a week. Brooms should be hung by the handle, not rested on the straw nor turned upside down. They should be washed once a week and quickly dried. Proper materials should be purchased for dish towels and dish cloths, while a few yards of cheese cloth, kept for soup and jelly straining, will save many towels and napkins.

GARMENTS MAY BE MADE OVER

When the home dressmaker begins to plan out her work for fall she usually looks over the family wardrobe to see what there is that is available for making over. Many times material is cast aside because of the color. It may have become faded, one has worn it possibly until a change is desirable or the mother does not care to have the dress which she may have worn for several seasons recognized when made over and worn by the little daughter. For a great variety of reasons she may want a different color, but there is no remedy except in replacing with new material, unless one resorts to the dyer's art. To those living in the city there is always the professional dyer to help, but when one is many miles from one and does not want to be to the trouble of sending the work away, or for economical reasons desires to do it at home, there are prepared dyes with directions given on the package which give very satisfactory results.

It is necessary that the nature of the material should be known and the dye chosen accordingly, for, if the fabric is part cotton, a cotton dye should be used, as wool and silk can be made to take cotton dye better than cotton will take the dye prepared for the other fabrics. For many reasons it is better in dyeing a colored goods to use a color on the same order but of a darker shade. If this is not done, it is necessary to extract as much of the color as possible by repeated boiling, for the two colors might not blend and would produce a shade different from that desired. Stirring thoroughly and dyes are necessary to prevent streaks in the color, and the kettle must be large enough to permit of this handling.

HATS NEED NOT COST LARGE SUM

College functions, concerts and many other occasions demanded an evening hat, and the young girl who told the story did not see just where it was to come from when there were so many expenses to be met. Every college girl knows what these are, and this ingenious girl decided that she could save several dollars toward paying the necessary expenses by making the hat.

In describing how she did it she said: Wire frames come in all colors, so I selected gilt wire, for I want one of those pretty ones made of gilt lace, and I could not find anything I wanted under $8. The lace to cover it was a bit expensive, but, after buying the pink rose which I put in the front, I found that the hat, which was just as pretty as the boughten ones, had cost only a little over $3.

Because of the scarcity of trimming appearing on the hats this season, like this practical college girl, women are finding it very easy to save much on millinery bills. They save, both on the amount which must be purchased and the possibility of arranging it

WOMAN TAKES UP FLYING AS PROFESSION

[By Latest Mail]

LONDON—Mrs. Mary Butler, who has taken up flying as a profession, is planning to drop in literally on her friends for afternoon teas from the flying ground where she is stationed as a racing pilot. Mrs. Butler has just returned from France, where she underwent a long course of training in preparation for her present post as flying representative of an aeroplane manufacturing concern. She has entered for the aerial Derby around London and will be the first woman who has ever competed in this race. Mrs. Butler says she never loses her head, but frequently loses her temper when she gets into a tight place. She has been flying for three years, and has never had a serious accident. She explains that she was forced into the flying game, but by circumstances she could not resist. She was living quietly in the country near Shoreham on a farm, part of which was acquired for an aerodrome and later a water-plane station was erected near her home. This proximity proved too much and Mrs. Butler soon took up flying, first as a fad, but as she increased in proficiency, she adopted it as a profession.

FEMININE FADS

Simple blouse seen the other day is an admirable model for present wear. Although the design is apparently simple, this blouse shows several dainty details which give it a special cachet.

The material is a very fine linen with a Delit-tine ground striped with lines of rose pink and pale yellow, with an additional hair stripe of black. The collar and cuffs are made of beautifully fine nainsook, which is almost transparent, and the original little tie is carried through wide buttonholes worked in the collar and then tied in a flat bow in front. This pretty idea is repeated on the cuffs. Such a blouse as this would look charming if worn with a plain linen or serge skirt, or it would be equally suitable for wearing under one of the new capes, skirt and cape being made of the same material.

The belt is made of lemon yellow suede and fastened with a horn buckle in the same shade of yellow. Link buttons to match appear on the fronts of the blouse.

Link buttons are very generally used on summer blouses, even those made of fine muslin. Small buttonholes are worked on either side of the fronts, and in this way various sets of different buttons can be introduced with ease.

FEMININE JUDGE MAKES NO SEX DISTINCTIONS

[By Latest Mail]

KANSAS CITY.—"A woman who disobeys the law should be treated just like a man," said Miss Laura Middaugh, who acted as judge in the Kansas City, Kans., police court in the absence of Judge Brady. She was the first woman to sit on the municipal bench here.

After making this statement she fined two women, charged with maintaining liquor nuisances, $100 and $300. She also increased the price for getting intoxicated by raising the fine from the customary $5 to $35.

Miss Middaugh recently was appointed justice of the peace.

more satisfactorily than in seasons when quantities of it are used. Among the inexpensive early spring hats have been those made of silk draped on a wire frame. Any practical woman will see the possibilities in an old silk dress or waist, in connection with such a hat and with the addition of a wing or quill the expense would be very slight.
